Report on Annual Gathering "Kshitij"

Introduction:

The annual cultural gathering "Kshitij" held at MIT ACSC in collaboration with MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, stands as a vibrant platform for students to exhibit their diverse talents and foster social interactions. The two-day event is an eagerly awaited occasion that breaks the monotony of daily college routines and provides students with an opportunity to shine through various artistic and performing activities.

Event Highlights:

"Kshitij" serves as a showcase for a plethora of talents, encompassing singing, dancing, musical instrument playing, acting, and much more. The event's appeal lies not only in its variety but also in the invaluable experience it offers to participants. The stage becomes a canvas for students to express themselves, transforming their creative ideas into captivating performances.

Enriching the College Experience:

The event offers a welcome respite from the rigors of academic life, injecting a breath of fresh air into the college environment. It encourages students to participate and enjoy moments of celebration, thereby enhancing their overall college experience. This break from the daily routine allows students to recharge, fostering a positive outlook towards their studies and personal growth.

Fostering Social Bonds:

"Kshitij" plays a crucial role in making connections among students from different academic streams who might not typically interact. The event becomes a melting pot of talents, backgrounds, and interests, breaking down barriers and facilitating new friendships. These newfound connections extend beyond the event, enriching the college's social fabric.

A Platform for Recognition:

The event's grandeur is amplified by the presence of esteemed guests who lend prestige to the occasion. These guests provide inspiration and motivation to the participants, recognizing their hard work and dedication. The large audience that attends "Kshitij" further enhances the experience by offering an opportunity for students to perform in front of a diverse crowd, building their confidence and honing their stage presence.

Conclusion:

The annual cultural gathering "Kshitij" organized by MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, in collaboration with MIT ACSC, encapsulates the essence of creative expression, social integration, and personal growth. Through its diverse array of activities, the event enriches the lives of students, providing them with a platform to showcase their talents and connect with peers. "Kshitij" stands as a testament to the power of culture, camaraderie, and individual potential within the educational realm.

Report on E-Waste Management Collaboration: Promoting Sustainability and Environmental Responsibility

Introduction:

On 26th January 2018, a significant step towards sustainable development was taken through a collaborative initiative involving MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, MIT Academy of Engineering (MIT AOE), MIT ACSC, and TERRE Policy Centre, Bombay. This e-waste management activity, conducted under a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU), exemplifies the commitment of these institutions towards addressing environmental concerns and contributing to the betterment of society.

Collaborative Efforts:

The collaboration between MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, MIT AOE, MIT ACSC, and TERRE Policy Centre reflects a shared vision of environmental stewardship. TERRE Policy Centre, a global non-profit organization dedicated to sustainability and environmental rehabilitation, provides the expertise and guidance necessary for effective e-waste management.

TERRE Policy Centre:

TERRE, an acronym for "Technology, Education, Research, Rehabilitation for the Environment," encapsulates the organization's multifaceted approach towards creating a greener future. As a non-partisan and independent entity, TERRE is committed to advancing developmental imperatives while safeguarding the environment.

E-Waste Management Activity:

The e-waste management activity conducted on 26th January 2018 aimed to address the growing concern of electronic waste disposal. Electronic waste, or e-waste, poses significant environmental and health risks if not managed properly. Recognizing this, the collaborative effort involved the collection of e-waste from the participating institutions.

Environmental Responsibility:

By handing over the collected e-waste to TERRE Policy Centre, the institutions demonstrated their commitment to responsible and sustainable waste management. TERRE, with its expertise in the field, ensured the proper disposal and recycling of the e-waste, minimizing its negative impact on the environment.

Impact and Contribution:

This collaborative initiative had a dual impact. Firstly, it contributed to reducing the environmental footprint associated with improper e-waste disposal.

Report on E-Waste Management Collaboration: Promoting Sustainability and Environmental Responsibility

Secondly, it raised awareness among the students and faculty about the importance of responsible waste management and the need to adopt sustainable practices.

Conclusion:

The e-waste management activity conducted under the MoU between MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, MIT Academy of Engineering, MIT ACSC, and TERRE Policy Centre, Bombay, serves as an exemplary model of collaboration and environmental responsibility. Through this initiative, the institutions not only addressed a pressing environmental concern but also fostered a culture of sustainability and awareness among their stakeholders. This endeavor stands as a testament to the positive impact that can be achieved when education, technology, and environmental consciousness converge.

REPORT ON JAGTIK SAHISHNUTA SAPTAH: PROMOTING GLOBAL HARMONY

Introduction:

Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah, a significant event promoting global harmony and tolerance, finds its resonance in the serene town of Alandi. Organized by MAEER's Group of Institutes, the World Peace Center, and in collaboration with UNESCO, this event serves as a platform to nurture cultural diversity, foster understanding, and create a harmonious world.

Alandi, with its rich historical and spiritual significance, becomes the backdrop for the Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah. This event stands as a testament to the dedication of these institutions to fostering global harmony. Alandi, renowned as the birthplace of Sant Dnyaneshwar, offers a spiritually charged setting for Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah. This historic town, known for its association with profound spiritual teachings, sets the stage for a week of enriching activities aimed at embracing diversity and unity.

"Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah" (Global Tolerance Week) is an annual event. The event serves as a platform to nurture cultural diversity, facilitate spiritual understanding, and engage in discussions aimed at fostering positive global change.

Event Background:

Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah holds immense significance as a reflection of the commitment exhibited by MAEER's Group of Institutes and the World Peace Center in advancing global harmony. The event has evolved into an annual initiative under the MoU signed between World Peace Center and UNESCO. This week-long event is dedicated to nurturing values of tolerance and understanding within society.

Seven-Day Program:

Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah unfolds over the period of seven days, offering participants a holistic experience that encompasses cultural exploration and spiritual enrichment. The event comprises diverse activities meticulously designed to provide participants with insights into cultural diversity, spiritual wisdom, and the collective aspiration of creating a world characterized by harmony and unity.

Engagements and Activities:

The event boasts a myriad of engaging activities reflecting cultural and spiritual enrichment. "Bhajan" sessions are integral, allowing participants to engage in singing "abhanga" while delving into the cultural and spiritual significance of these verses. "Kirtan" sessions elevate the experience, combining abhanga singing with explanations that deepen participants' understanding of the teachings.

REPORT ON JAGTIK SAHISHNUTA SAPTAH: PROMOTING GLOBAL HARMONY

Promoting Global Insights:

At the heart of the event lie the "Pravachan" sessions, during which learned individuals share their perspectives on contributing to a better world. These sessions provide a platform for discussing the significance of peace, understanding, and collaboration across diverse cultures and backgrounds. Participants are encouraged to reflect on their roles as conscientious global citizens.

Event Highlights:

The inauguration of Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah serves as its heartfelt beginning, setting the tone for a week dedicated to cultural exploration and spiritual growth. The event culminates in a valedictory session, affording participants an opportunity to reflect on their experiences and insights gained throughout the event. MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College plays an instrumental role in the event's orchestration, managing hosting, coordination, compering, creative decorations, Prasad distribution, and more.

Community Initiatives:

In addition to the primary event, the college embarks on community initiatives. Notably, a ghat cleanliness drive is conducted, aimed at advocating for a pollution-free environment around shrines. Furthermore, the college actively educates shrine personnel about pollution prevention and personal hygiene. This annual ghat cleanliness program showcases the college's dedication to community welfare.

Hygiene Initiative to the Warkari Community:

The college extends its impact through an awareness drive targeting the Warkari community, focusing on the importance of personal hygiene and maintaining a clean environment. This initiative underscores the college's commitment to broader community well-being.

Conclusion:

The collaborative endeavors between MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, the MIT Group of Institutes, the World Peace Center, and UNESCO have given rise to the impactful Jagtik Sahishnuta Saptah. This event, characterized by its blend of cultural exploration, spiritual insights, and meaningful discussions, underscores the significance of embracing diversity and fostering unity. The college's unwavering dedication in organizing the event, alongside its community-focused initiatives, serves as a testament to its commitment to nurturing values of tolerance, peace, and global understanding. As this initiative continues to flourish, it remains a beacon of hope, inspiring collective efforts towards a more harmonious and inclusive world.

REPORT ON PALAKHI PRASTHAN SOHLA

The Wari tradition, deeply ingrained in the cultural fabric of Maharashtra, is a remarkable pilgrimage that embodies centuries of devotion, unity, and reverence for revered saints. This unique tradition involves the procession of the padukas (footprints) of esteemed saints, most notably Sant Dnyaneshwar and Sant Tukaram, from their respective shrines to the Vithoba Temple in Pandharpur. This religious journey, undertaken on foot, gathers pilgrims from various regions who are known as "Warkaris," signifying those who participate in the wari.

Originating more than 700 to 800 years ago, the Wari tradition is a testament to the enduring spiritual and cultural heritage of Maharashtra. The journey, which spans 21 days, witnesses the convergence of numerous palkis that join the main Tukaram and Dnyaneshwar palkhis along the way. These palkhis, carrying the padukas of the saints, symbolize the spiritual journey undertaken by the devotees.

The Wari Procession:

Two significant pilgrimages within the Wari tradition center around the revered saints Sant Dnyaneshwar and Sant Tukaram. The procession for Sant Dnyaneshwar commences from Alandi, a town with spiritual significance in the Pune district of Maharashtra. Simultaneously, the procession for Sant Tukaram begins from Dehu.

These two prominent palkhis journey for 15 days to ultimately reach the Vithoba Temple in Pandharpur, where the celebration culminates on the auspicious occasion of Shayani Ekadashi.

A Profound Spiritual Experience:

As the Warkaris set forth on their spiritual expedition, they wear holy Tulsi beads and sing the praises of Lord Vithoba, commemorating the revered saints Dnyaneshwar and Tukaram. Chants of "Gyanba Tukaram" resonate along the path, echoing their devotion and spiritual commitment. The Warkaris gather in the tens of thousands, and their journey carries the essence of unity, humility, and profound spiritual connection.

Culmination at Pandharpur:

Upon reaching Pandharpur on Shayani Ekadashi, the Warkaris participate in a ritualistic bath in the sacred Bhima River before proceeding to the Vithoba Temple. This final destination holds immense spiritual significance, and their arrival marks the culmination of their arduous journey. The sight of countless devotees converging upon the temple, with unwavering faith and devotion, creates an atmosphere of shared spirituality and devotion.

A Legacy of Devotion:

The Wari tradition not only honors the legacy of revered saints but also serves as a unifying force that brings people from diverse backgrounds together. This tradition transcends time, reminding us of the power of collective faith and the ability of spirituality to bind communities. With its rich history and enduring impact, the Wari tradition continues to inspire generations of devotees to embark on this sacred pilgrimage, embodying the timeless values of devotion, unity, and humility.

World Peace Center's Role:

The World Peace Center, known for its efforts in promoting global harmony, adds a significant dimension to Kartiki Wari. By participating in the event's organization, the center emphasizes the importance of cultural diversity and spiritual enrichment as pillars of peace. The center's involvement aligns with its broader mission to foster unity and understanding among communities, transcending geographical and cultural boundaries.

Contributions of MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College:

The involvement of MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College in Palkhi prasthan is instrumental in organizing and coordinating the event. The college plays a vital role in hosting and managing various aspects of the celebration.

From arranging the ceremonial inauguration to coordinating activities throughout the event, the college ensures the smooth execution of Wari. The college's commitment to this event reflects its dedication to promoting cultural diversity, spirituality, and values of tolerance and understanding, as showcased in their broader initiatives.

UNESCO's Endorsement:

UNESCO's collaboration in wari amplifies the event's impact on a global scale. As a renowned international organization dedicated to education, culture, and peace, UNESCO's endorsement elevates the event's visibility and underscores its significance in fostering unity and understanding. This collaboration reaffirms the event's alignment with UNESCO's mission of promoting values of tolerance and cross-cultural dialogue.

Promoting Global Harmony:

The collaboration between MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, the World Peace Center, and UNESCO exemplifies a collective commitment for promoting global harmony. Wari, with its blend of cultural exploration, spiritual insights, and meaningful discussions, underscores the importance of embracing diversity and fostering unity.

REPORT ON PALAKHI PRASTHAN SOHLA

These institutions' contributions extend beyond the event itself, as they actively engage in initiatives that reflect their dedication to promoting values of tolerance, peace, and global understanding.

Conclusion:

Palkhi Prasthan is not merely an event but a manifestation of unity, devotion, and community service. The involvement of MAEER's Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, the World Peace Center, and UNESCO amplifies its impact and significance. Through their collaborative efforts, these institutions emphasize the values of cultural diversity, spiritual understanding, and global harmony. As Wari continues to thrive, its message resonates with people across boundaries, inspiring collective efforts toward a more harmonious and inclusive world. The partnership between these institutions and the event stands as a beacon of hope, demonstrating the transformative power of shared values and a united vision.

Date: 21/12/2022

Time: 10:00 am to 2:00 pm

Speaker: Mr. Vijay Joshi, Mr. Ajit Phaphale

Organization: Manashakti Research Centre, Lonavala, Maharashtra

Participants: Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff

As a part of the Human Resource Department & Faculty Development Program (FDP) Committee, we at MAEER's MIT Arts, Commerce & Science College, Alandi (D), MIT Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, Alandi, Pune have organized a workshop on "Stress Management" for Teaching & Non-teaching Staff in the college on Wednesday, 21st December 2022.

As we know, Stress is essentially commonly experienced by people; it can be controlled & modified. Stress is a normal reaction the body has when changes occur, resulting in physical, emotional and intellectual responses. Stress management training can help you deal with changes in a healthier way. Stress is a normal human reaction that happens to everyone. In fact, the human body is designed to experience stress and react to it. When you experience changes or challenges (stressors), your body produces physical and mental responses. That's stress. These demands can come from work, relationships, financial pressures, and other situations, but anything that poses a real or perceived challenge or threat to a person's well-being can cause stress.

Many daily strategies can help you keep stress at bay:

- Try relaxation activities, such as meditation, yoga, tai chi, breathing exercises and muscle relaxation. Programs are available online, in smartphone apps, and at many gyms and community centers.
- Take good care of your body each day. Eating right, exercising and getting enough sleep help your body handle stress much better.
- Stay positive and practice gratitude, acknowledging the good parts of your day or life.
- Accept that you can't control everything. Find ways to let go of worry about situations you cannot change.
- Learn to say "no" to additional responsibilities when you are too busy or stressed.
- Stay connected with people who keep you calm, make you happy, provide emotional support and help you with practical things. A friend, family member or neighbor can become a good listener or share responsibilities so that stress doesn't become overwhelming.
- Following certain generous sayings of Sant Dnyandeo, Bahinabai, Gautam Budhha etc, shall help individual to get answers to questions in one's life.

Activity Demonstration:

The expert asked for a volunteer (HoD B. Sc. CS – Mrs. Sangita Birajdar), on whom the impact of favorable & unfavorable questions was observed through the Oximeter. The variation in pulse rate & BP was observed by all. Thus, the activity pointed towards creating a good environment & surroundings for better living.

The centre also had arranged books exhibition & sale counter for better connectivity & understanding of the philosophy of Manashakti. Many attendees did take advantage of the books made available & purchased for further reading & learning.

The session was attended by the teaching & non-Teaching staff of MAEER's MIT Arts, Commerce & Science college & Saint Dnyaneshwar B.Ed. College, Alandi, Pune in huge numbers as more than 111.

Speaker: "Dr. Shirish Limaye & Dr. Shubhada Tamhankar"

No of Participants: All MIT ACSC Staff & MIT S.D. B.Ed. College, Alandi, Pune

As a part of the Faculty Development Program (FDP). we at MIT Art's, Commerce & Science College, Alandi(D), & MIT S.D. B.ED. College, Alandi, Pune organized a faculty development program on "Interpersonal Skills " for Teaching & Non-Teaching Staff in the college on Saturday, 7th May 2022 from 11:00 am to 02:30 pm. The program was jointly organized with the Human Resource department.

This training session was delivered by Dr. Shirish Limaye- Ex. Professor & Head, Symbiosis College of Arts and Commerce, Pune & Dr. Shubhada Tamhankar, Associate Professor & Head, Department of Business Practices, Symbiosis College of Arts and Commerce, Pune (India). The training session was arranged to help us in establishing a faster and stronger rapport with people. Excellent interpersonal skills help you to gain trust and mutual respect in all relationships. Interpersonal skills can help any person to find further success at work and in life. The training session started with Ice Breaking Activity. It promotes participants toward team building. It also warm-ups participants for individual involvement in the session.

Later in the FDP session, practical aspects of Interpersonal Skills were explained with the help of some of the group activities & individual activities. Interpersonal skills are the set of skills we use to interact and communicate with others. All the important interpersonal skills are demonstrated with the help of activities. In some activities, a person should learn individual interpersonal skills and with group activities, participants learn teamwork. Strong interpersonal skills are a key indicator of success in a working environment. Benefits of such activities can include the ability to:

- Cooperate with teammates to solve difficult problems.
- Build collaborative relationships with colleagues
- Understand and meet the needs of clients and customers
- Effectively lead and manage others.

Interpersonal skills were learned by participant's:

- | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Emotional intelligence | 6. Communication |
| 2. Reliability | 7. Positivity |
| 3. Negotiation | 8. Empathy |
| 4. Teamwork | 9. Openness to feedback |
| 5. Conflict Resolution | 10. Leadership |

Mentioned interpersonal skills were learned with the help of activities that are carried out during the session such as: Passing the Ring, Balloon Game, Clap After I say 3, Listen to what I say, communication exercise (action play), etc. These activities give us the importance of interpersonal skills at the workplace and in life. Lacking interpersonal skills can lead to miscommunication or misunderstandings with coworkers or management that have the potential to lead to bigger conflicts.

In between the activity session; Sir explained to us the importance of interpersonal skills. We got the answer to the question of why these skills are so important?

This topic was explained in the PowerPoint presentation. The PowerPoint presentation includes the following points:

- Ø Earn respect
- Ø Become a better colleague and leader.
- Ø Become an expert at relationship management
- Ø Gain a positive mindset about setbacks and conflict
